

The original layout of the area

Bus Shelter

Dangerous junction with main road

Stop & Layby

The bus stop is apart from the original shelter. Cars use the layby for parking and as a 'slip road' to join the main carriageway.

Children waited for the bus, outside the shelter, in the road / junction, where traffic entered and left the estate.

By clearing the area, space has been made to build the new shelter at the bus stop, away from the dangerous junction.

A network of new paths, away from the road, will support children to access the new bus shelter safely.
